CORPORATE STRATEGY

Helping businesses define their direction and scope to achieve long term success

Lead Principal: Andrew Turner

CORPORATE STRATEGY OVERVIEW

The Strategic framework is at the core of all successful companies.

When well executed and understood it acts as the touchstone for decision making and the glue that binds individuals into high performing teams and those teams into an aligned and purposeful entity. Too often, Mission, Vision and Strategy are seen as necessary tools for the board and meaningless by the employees. When well executed and constantly revisited they can act as the single guiding principle in an ever changing corporate world, driving a high performance environment.

B2E Consulting has a wealth of Strategy expertise gained over many years of working with Blue Chip companies on important and transformational programmes. Our consultants have experience right across the learning spectrum, from corporate strategy, design, development and implementation.

TYPICAL CHALLENGES

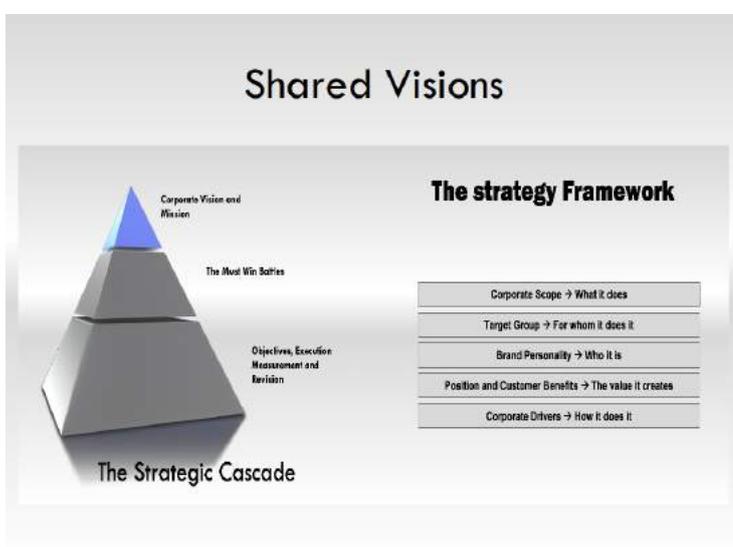

Change is the only constant in today's world. Businesses consequently have to continuously evolve and invest to remain competitive. Unfortunately, this often does not lead to improving returns as direction and purpose become confused and people work to resolve their own short term issues. The lack of alignment in a company can lead to internal competition for scarce resources and teams working towards differing objectives.

A clear participative and well articulated Mission, Vision and Strategy can eradicate the internal inertia and provide a clear direction against which to measure and fine tune all activities. This commonality of purpose is fundamental to the business ability to weather a constantly evolving marketplace and customer.

UNIQUE SOLUTIONS

BUILDING A CORPORATE STRATEGY

Building a Corporate Strategy is a collaborative exercise in recognising the long term vision of the entity, and its realistic ability to achieve it.

The process must first recognise the sometimes competing internal and external view of the entity its stakeholders and customers.

With a shared view the key “Must Win Battles” can be recognised and resources and clear measurements of success articulated and embedded.

Translating this into a recognisable roadmap to success for all parts of an organisation.
